

We have had an Easter eggstravanza this week! We have enjoyed hot cross buns for break, we have decorated Easter eggs, coloured Easter eggs, used our lovely Easter stamps and coloured them, made chocolate nests and filled them with mini eggs, decorated Easter baskets and filled them with eggs which the Easter bunny hid in the church for our Easter egg hunt, made our wonderful Easter cards, made a beautiful picture of daffodils inspired by our own Willow daffodils in the garden, enjoyed being bunnies and chicks during role play, had an Easter bonnet parade and an Easter party.

Morley spreading butter on his hot cross bun and Harry enjoying his festive treat! Isabella using crayons and ribbons to decorate her picture of an Easter egg.

Orla splattering paint onto the egg on her Easter card to achieve a fantastic speckled egg effect, Zana assembling her card and Xan and Kit creating their chicks to hatch out of the eggs on their cards.

Ferdie mixing up the shredded wheat and melted chocolate for his nest, Olga modelling her nest on the real one which Virge found in her garden and placing some little eggs inside and finally - the best bit - licking out the bowl!

Willoughby having a good look at the daffodils in the garden, Alfie and Katya getting really messy and creating their own springtime daffs.

Jane, our very own Easter bunny, showing the girls how to hop and then encouraging the boys to be chicks hatching out of their eggs.

Caroline's group decorating their Easter baskets, the Princesses sit down and relax with some colouring and Martha giving Caroline a bunch of daffodils from the garden.

The Easter bonnet parade was a triumph, Justin tinkled on the piano and everyone twirled around in their groups. A great effort - well done everyone!

After our Easter egg hunt, everyone sat down and tucked into a huge party feast, thank you all so much for your contributions. Then it was party games, fuelled by lots of sugar, energy levels were high! Musical chairs was a great favourite.

We were all very sad to say goodbye to Justin on Thursday, some children had drawn portraits of Justin and we stuck them on a card with lots of photos so he won't forget us. Luckily his friend, Beverley, is joining us next term to play the piano for our Thursday music sessions.

We have been loving having our gym sessions upstairs in the big hall this term, this week Ben brought in some exciting equipment, a huge ball and a rope for tug of war.

There are no reminders this week as you will all be receiving a newsletter just before the beginning of term with lots of reminders!!

Have a fantastic Easter break and see you on Wednesday 25th April.
